

MEMBERS ARE ENTITLED

to receive gratis—

Bi-monthly Transactions of A.F.A. containing complete Proceedings of Conventions, including all papers and discussions.

Preprints of Convention papers.

Cast Metals Handbook published in 1935 and containing valuable information on castings design, recommendations to buyers of castings, data on cast iron, malleable iron, cast steel and nonferrous casting alloys of value to all foundrymen.

Standards and Tentative Standards—Testing and Grading Foundry Sands.

Standards of Four Year Foundry Apprenticeship (1935).

Special members' discounts on additional copies of all publications.

Reduced railroad fares to conventions.

Free registration at conventions.

Chapter membership without payment of additional dues.

In addition to the above, all members are entitled to copies of special publications issued by the Association during their term of membership. The following are some of the special publications issued during past years, copies of which are available at members' discount price 1931 Joint A.F.A.-A.S.T.M. Symposium on Malleable Iron Castings.

1932 Joint A.F.A.-A.S.T.M. Symposium on Steel Castings.

1933 Joint A.F.A.-A.S.T.M. Symposium on Cast Iron.

---

A Door to Progress and Opportunity in the Foundry Industry is opened through membership in the A. F. A., the one technical and educational organization that represents all branches of casting manufacture.